Record Rooms for want of separate accommodation, steps should be taken early for remedying this irregularity.

5. The Inspector reports that there is an impression among some Amildars that no responsibility rests on them to have the sorting of the records in their taluk properly carried out. It is hard to credit that any Amildars could entertain such an erroneous idea of their obligations in this matter, such men should be strictly warned and cases of omissions on their part to enforce due performance of the duties of the Taluk Sheristadars and the record staff in this respect should be reported to the undersigned for suitable notice being taken.
